About the Clean Economy Network, Inc.:

The Clean Economy Network, Inc. (CENI) is the national advocacy association for the cleantech and green business community. They are a broad, nonpartisan collection of professionals, entrepreneurs, investors, workers joined by like-minded professionals and thinkers from across the economy and across the political spectrum. We work at the intersection of politics, policy and business to develop and advocate for policies and programs which meet our Guiding Principles, catalyze clean development and create green jobs.
